2025 COLLECTION

Save The Duck
Spring/Summer 2025 Collection

The Spring/Summer 2025 collection from Save The Duck is a vibrant journey to the heart of Latin America, capturing the essence of Guatemala's nature, traditions, and colors. This collection features a kaleidoscope of abstract shapes and chromatic patterns, showcased through an intense color palette, varied textures, and visual contrasts.

OUTERWEAR

Save The Duck continues to innovate in the 100% animal-free outerwear and lifestyle market, pushing the boundaries of down-free puffers with new silhouettes and materials. This season introduces a fresh take on iconic designs with wavy quilting and updates key summer pieces in 100% recycled fabrics.

The SS25 collection underscores the brand's commitment to increasing the use of recycled over virgin materials. A focus on circularity is evident in an expanded selection of mono-material garments, simplifying the recycling process by using the same fiber for the shell, padding, and lining.

The new Contemporary Sportswear section reimagines outerwear classics with meticulous attention to detail and fit. Cult favorites like the safari jacket, parachute jacket, and trench coat are reworked in gabardine fabric that offers the look of cotton with the benefits of recycled polyester.

New iterations of the genderless bomber jacket from SS24 are introduced in both long and short styles, featuring a signature contrasting orange lining. The collection also includes a new coach jacket for both women and men, along with lightweight windbreakers and coats designed for urban and outdoor use.

The Rainy collection debuts a new fabric with water-resistant lamination, providing an innovative alternative to the other multi-layer materials in recycled polyester. This line includes everything from lightweight, packable models ideal for travel to functional silhouettes with taped seams and water-resistant zippers, catering to both sporty and formal preferences with technical jackets and elegant raincoats.

SMARTLEISURE

Established as a lifestyle line to meet the needs of the modern traveler, the Smartleisure collection has continuously evolved, now offering a full look for both women and men.

For Spring/Summer 2025, the Smartleisure selection is further integrated into the main collection. These two lines now share fabrics, creating opportunities for new coordinated looks and endless matching possibilities.

The established offerings of four-way-stretch, quick-dry, and crease-resistant materials are now complemented by utility and lite tech selections. A line of jackets, pants, and shorts made from recycled polyester gabardine is specifically designed for mid-season comfort. For the warmer temperatures, two new extra-lightweight fabrics introduce a versatile range of blazers, shirts, pants, and casual skirts.

Additionally, the SS25 season marks a notable expansion: for the first time, several Smartleisure garments are also available for children, enhancing the Junior collection.

BEACHWEAR

Save The Duck's journey to Latin America infuses the Beachwear collection with vibrant colors and imagination, showcasing a kaleidoscope of abstract prints alongside marine-themed patterns.

The men's and children's swimwear lines continue to energize the Mini-Me selection, perfect for those seeking matching designs to share their animal-free style with the younger ones.

Conversely, the women's offerings have expanded significantly: building on last summer's collection, the range now includes a new one-piece swimsuit and shorts. The bikini line has been enhanced with a V-shaped bikini bottom, a tie-back bralette top, and a structured balconette model with underwire.
